Examiner's Amendment and Reasons for Allowance

1. An examiner's amendment to the record appears below. Should the changes and/or additions be unacceptable to applicant, an amendment may be filed as provided by 37 CFR 1.312. To ensure consideration of such an amendment, it MUST be submitted no later than the payment of the issue fee.

2. Authorization for this examiner's amendment was given in a telephone interview with Mr. Jeff Hollmen on 11/2/2006.

3. Claim 1 is amended as follows:

1. (Twice Amended) A computer-based user interface for accessing litigation information associated with at least one litigation case, the user interface comprising:

a home page including a first plurality of user-selectable hyperlinks, each hyperlink in the first plurality of hyperlinks identifying a category of litigation information, the hyperlinks thereby identifying categories of litigation information, and a plurality of web pages, each web page associated with one of the hyperlinks in the first plurality of web pages, each web page providing litigation information related to the category identified by the hyperlink associated with the web page, each web page displayed in response to selection of the hyperlink associated with the web page, wherein at least one web page associated with one of the plurality of hyperlinks in the first plurality of hyperlinks includes a hyperlink to an electronic copy of a document related to the category identified by the hyperlink associated with the at least one web page, and wherein one of the categories category identified by the hyperlinks is pleadings information, and wherein the web page associated with the hyperlink for pleadings information includes a plurality of pleadings entries, each pleadings entry including a description of a pleading.

Statement of Reasons for Allowance

4. Claims 1-6, 8-49 and 51-83 are allowed.
5. The following is an examiner's statement of reasons for allowance.

The present invention is directed to a method for managing and accessing litigation information associated with litigation cases.

Independent claims 1, 49, 62, 70, 75, and 80-81 recite, or similarly recite, in combination with the remaining elements, the step of providing primary and secondary user interface pages or web pages identifying links to a plurality of categories and subcategories of litigation information, wherein at least one of the following is recited: (a) the categories and subcategories of litigation include at least pleadings information; or (b) the secondary user interface includes user selectable links to electronic copies of litigation documents related to the identified litigation category; or (c) the user interface comprises a plurality of litigation case selection pages, each litigation case selection page including at least one hyperlink identifying at least one litigation case associated with a particular client.

The closest prior art, Grow (US 6,694,315 B1) and Bedell et al. (US 6,622,128 B1), show a substantially similar method for managing and accessing litigation information. However, Grow and Bedell et al., singularly or in combination, still fail to anticipate or render the above cited limitations obvious.

Any comments considered necessary by applicant must be submitted no later than the payment of the issue fee and, to avoid processing delays, should preferably accompany the issue fee. Such submissions should be clearly labeled "Comments on Statement of Reasons for Allowance."
